Press Release

On July 22, 2026, Edward Sellers was sentenced to 22 months in prison after pleading guilty to Violating a Protection Order, a fifth-degree felony and admitting to community control violations.

In 2024, Sellers pled guilty to Violating a Protection Order, a fifth-degree felony. He was placed on community control for a period of five (5) years. In 2026, while still on community control, Sellers once again violated the protection order and was subsequently charged with Violation a Protection Order, a fifth-degree felony.

Sellers faced a maximum of 24 months in prison for both the community control violations and the new Violating a Protection Order charge. At sentencing, Sellers was ordered to serve 12 months in prison for the community control violations and 10 months in prison for the new charge, for a total of 22 months in prison.
